Le Resume Studio

User Tutorial

October 11 2026 | Published app version 13

Use this guide to turn your own work history into a tailored resume and matching cover letter, review the results, and save both files. A new visitor starts with a blank master resume. Returning visitors keep the master and application versions saved in their browser.

Open Le Resume Studio

1 Add your master resume

Open Master resume in the navigation, or choose Add resume in the workspace. Enter the information from your existing resume into the labeled fields. The current app uses an editor; it does not import a PDF or Word resume automatically.

Section	What to enter
Contact details	Full name is required. Email, phone, and LinkedIn URL are optional in the editor; include accurate contact details before applying.
Summary and competencies	Write a professional summary. Enter at least one competency, with one competency per line.
Experience	For each role, enter employer, original job title, dates, and at least one accomplishment. Enter one complete bullet per line without a bullet symbol.
Skills and education	Add skill groups if needed and separate their skills with commas. Add education entries if needed; each added entry needs a school, qualification, and date or status.

Use Add role, Add skill group, or Add education to include more entries. Remove an unused entry with its Remove button. At least one role must remain. The editor supports up to 30 roles and 20 entries each for skills and education.

Choose Save master resume. If a required field is missing, the app identifies it and moves focus to it. Once the master is complete, Tailor resume + cover letter becomes available. Enter only experience, tools, credentials, and achievements you can substantiate.

2 Tailor and review both documents

1. In Section 1, optionally enter the job title and company. These details help label the saved version and personalize the letter.

2. At “Please add the job description so your resume can be tailored.” paste the full posting. Include responsibilities, tools, skills, and qualifications. Use at least 80 characters and 12 words; the maximum is 40,000 characters.

3. Choose the employer’s Applicant tracking system if known. Otherwise leave General ATS format selected. The selector includes all 46 requested systems.

4. Open Tailoring preferences if needed. Focused keeps up to four bullets for the first role and three for later roles. Full detail keeps every bullet. Both retain the original roles, employers, titles, and dates.

5. Use Additional keywords for a job phrase the app missed, separating phrases with commas. The posting and your master resume must support any phrase used to improve the score.

6. Choose Tailor resume + cover letter. Both documents appear in Section 2, and the application is added to Saved versions when browser storage is available.

What to check in Section 2

Tab	Purpose
Resume and Cover letter	Read the complete documents. Confirm accuracy, relevance, dates, contact details, and the letter’s greeting.
Keywords	Compare separate resume and cover-letter scores, included phrases, missing wording, and unsupported qualifications.
Writing review	Check English edits, action verbs, sentence length, and wording flagged for your review.
ATS review and Changes	Check document content and platform guidance, then inspect how the original resume was tailored.

Understand the 10 out of 10 target

The score measures the unique job phrases this app detects. A phrase counts only when it appears in the document and is supported by your master. Unsupported requirements keep the score below 10/10. Cover-letter scoring uses its paragraph text. Add genuine missing experience to the master and tailor again; do not add qualifications you do not possess. This measure does not cover every requirement or predict an employer’s ATS result.

3 Edit and download your application

Make final edits

Select Resume or Cover letter, then choose the edit icon in the review toolbar. In the resume editor, revise the summary, competencies, and accomplishment bullets. Update contact details, employers, job titles, dates, skills, or education in Master resume and tailor again. In the cover-letter editor, personalize the company, subject, greeting, paragraphs, closing, and signature.

Save your changes and recheck Keywords and Writing review. Editing a resume regenerates the cover letter until you have customized the letter. Once customized, the letter is preserved when the resume changes, so check that both documents still agree. Changes to a tailored document do not rewrite your master.

Save a resume and a cover letter

1. In the export area, select Resume or Cover letter. Choosing the corresponding preview tab also selects that document.

2. Choose Word .docx, PDF, or Plain text. This prepares a file and opens the save options; it is not the final save step.

3. If you are using the app inside ChatGPT, choose Open download page. A separate browser tab receives the selected document.

4. Choose Save file… if a folder picker is available, or Download file to use the browser's download manager. A phone or tablet may show Share file with a Save to Files option.

5. Check the chosen folder or the browser's Downloads list, open the file, and confirm the content. Repeat for the other document.

Format	Choose it when
Word DOCX	You want an editable file or the employer requests a Word resume.
PDF	The employer accepts PDF and you want stable layout with selectable text.
Plain text TXT	You need to copy content into a form or read text without formatting. Some ATS resume fields do not accept TXT.

Files are generated in your browser. The app cannot force every browser to use one download folder. A native save picker lets you choose; ordinary downloads follow your browser settings. "Download requested" asks you to check the download manager. "File saved" is shown only after the native file write completes. If a file opens in a preview, use that preview's Download or Share action.

Choose the copy control to copy the selected document. If automatic copying is unavailable, use Select all text in the copy dialog, then Control+C, Command+C, or your device's Copy command.

4 Manage saved data and shared links

Saved versions holds your last ten applications in the current browser profile, including each resume, cover letter, posting, and review data. Open Saved versions and choose an application to restore it into the workspace. Older saved resumes receive a cover letter when opened if one was not previously saved.

Action	What happens
Open or refresh the app	Sections 1 and 2 return to blank. Job fields, previews, temporary editor changes, and prepared download links reset. The saved master and versions remain.
Open a saved version	The selected application fills the workspace. Its saved master snapshot is available with that application.
Clear saved versions	Immediately deletes saved applications from this browser, including resumes and cover letters, and clears the open workspace. The master remains.
Clear master resume	Empties the master and current workspace after confirmation. Saved applications remain, and the master stays blank when you reopen the app.
Use a different device or browser profile	The new profile starts without your master or history. There is no account synchronization of applicant data.

Sharing the app

Share the ordinary app link. A new end user with access to the Site and a browser profile that has not used it receives a blank Master resume and zero saved versions. The link does not transfer your master or saved applications. Site access follows the owner’s sharing settings; sending the link does not itself grant access.

People using the same device and browser profile can see the local data stored there. On a shared computer, download the files you need, clear saved versions, and clear the master. Clearing app data does not delete files already saved to Downloads or documents transferred into a separate download tab. Close those tabs and manage downloaded files separately.

When storage is unavailable

A persistent notice explains that edits and history are available only while the current tab is open. You can still enter a master, tailor, and download documents. Download copies before closing or reloading the tab. If deletion reports a storage error, retry and verify it; the app does not report confirmed deletion when browser storage rejected the change.

5 Accessibility and common questions

Navigate with a keyboard or assistive technology

- Use Tab and Shift+Tab to move through controls. Use Skip to main content to reach the workspace.
- Within the review tabs, use Left Arrow, Right Arrow, Home, or End to switch panels. Tab then moves into the selected panel.
- Use Escape or the labeled Close button to close a dialog. Focus returns to the control that opened it.
- Use browser zoom and text settings to enlarge content. Document previews and keyword tables can receive keyboard focus for scrolling.
- Use Plain text exports or the manual copy dialog if these better suit your reading tools. Motion follows the device’s reduced-motion preference.

The app includes accessibility improvements and automated checks. Real screen-reader, device, and browser verification is still needed before a full accessibility conformance claim.

Resolve common problems

Problem	Next action
Tailoring is disabled	Open Master resume, complete the required fields, and save it.
The posting is rejected	Paste the full description. Check the minimum of 80 characters and 12 words and the 40,000-character maximum.
The score is below 10/10	Read the missing phrases and evidence gaps. Correct genuine omissions in the master and tailor again.
A file is missing	Finish the save step, check Downloads or the selected folder, and use Open download page from an embedded app.
Word or PDF fails to load	Try the format again. Use Plain text if the export dependency cannot load.
PDF changes a name or character	Use Word or Plain text to preserve characters outside the PDF font’s supported set.
My saved versions are absent	Return to the browser profile where you created them. Clearing browser data or using private browsing can remove or isolate them.

For feedback, describe the task, device, operating system, browser version, expected result, actual result, and any error text. Remove personal resume details from screenshots or examples you send. The Web and Mobile Browser Guide contains the developer’s detailed troubleshooting and test plan.
